

Indice

- 7 ALESSANDRA SQUEO, MADDALENA PENNACCHIA,
RETO WINCKLER, Introduction

PART I – THE DIGITAL TURN IN TEXTUAL STUDIES, SCHOLARLY EDITING AND PEDAGOGY

- 25 ALESSANDRA SQUEO, “Such stuff as ‘texts’ are made on”.
Digital Materialities and (Hyper)editing in The Internet Shakespeare Edition of ‘King Lear’
- 53 SILVIA SILVESTRI, Link It “to the source from whence it came”. Shakespeare Source Study after the Digital Turn
- 73 MARISTELLA GATTO, Vertical and Distant Reading of Shakespeare with Digital Natives. The Case of ‘The Merchant of Venice’
- 95 MICHELA COMPAGNONI, Interdisciplinary Uses of Digital Editions for Italian High School Students. Shakespeare’s ‘Cymbeline’ and the Silvano Toti Globe Theatre

PART II – INTERMEDIALITY AND PERFORMANCE

- 113 ORLAGH WOODS, A King of Infinite (cyber)space? The Digital Remapping of Shakespeare in light of The Globe’s Emma Rice Controversy
- 133 MARIA ELISA MONTIRONI, *The ‘Networking’ of the Shrew.
Katherina Minola on Facebook*
- 151 CRISTINA PARAVANO, “My Kingdom for an Iphone”.
Shakespeare and Mobile Phones

169 MARIACRISTINA CAVECCHI, Shakespeare and Digital Pathways. Shortening distances with 'Romeo and Juliet'

PART III – ADAPTATIONS AND APPROPRIATIONS IN DIGITAL CONTEXTS

191 PIERPAOLO MARTINO, Image, Music, Text. Notes on The Digital Video Disc edition of William Shakespeare's 'Romeo+Juliet' by Baz Luhrmann

207 CARLOTTA SUSCA, "To meme or not to meme", and to do so during a Pandemic. Shakespeare and the Memetic Transmission of a Classic

225 ANITA ORFINI, Back to the Future. 'Hamlet Encounters' and the Use of VR to Address a Time "out of joint"

239 VALERIA BRUCOLI, Shakespeare in Jail. Hamlet in Rebibbia: from Stage to Live Streaming Performances

257 RETO WINCKLER, Hacking Hamlet. Sam Esmail's 'Mr. Robot' as Update, Port and Fork of the Shakespearean Source Code