

PRESENTATION

The present volume, supplement to n. 40 of Thalassia Salentina, is a selection of contributions presented to the 3rd ALBLAKES: International Conference on sustainable water resources management, hold in Elbasan, Albania, on 20-22 October 2017.

The Conference hosted a total of 53 contributions, coming from the wole Albanian territory and Universities, other than 9 foreign countries.

The aim of the present editorial initiative is to sustain and distribute the knowledge of studies on Albanian territory and of problems related with management of Albanian Nature and Environment.

Papers/contributions in the present volume are presented in alphabetic order of Author, and mostly follow the rules of Thalassia Salentina. In some cases the contributions are not organized according such rules because their still not complete condition (or because already published elsewhere) thus just representing the invited lectures of foreign Scientists.

Here I thank gratefully the organizing committee and all the participants for their collaboration in the realization of the present volume.
